

SALES BOOK FW21

Plan it. Host it. Love it.

Welcome to our seasonal collection for Fall Winter 2021. I'm certain that we shall all be up for a really great Christmas this year! We deserve it!

I would like to share our purpose with you, we feel the following captures it well:

"PLAN IT, HOST IT, LOVE IT"

I have long known that I am in the camp that likes to get a crowd together and to put some creative energy in to how it all looks beforehand. From a young age I knew I loved the thrill of thinking up a tablescape and hosting my friends and family.

The pandemic has shown that many of us have missed this human element in our lives, and now outside of the main house, many of us have put more effort into our gardens to offer a new space to invite people around to. So we now have a few places at home that we can turn into a social space!

The beauty of disposable product is that we can escape to a particular theme for a night – be that tropical, Halloween or ultra-Christmassy. One can create a well-coordinated "look" for a kids party, from fairy to soccer. All this is fun in both the planning and hosting stage. I know I, and many others, give a lot of time to the planning of how our table will look on Christmas day.

As we all become more eco conscious, we want our options for your gathering to be kind to the planet as well as impactful for your guests. Today we design product with zero plastic as our opening thought. In addition, every time a product comes up for re-order, we redesign the item to be plastic-free. We have ceased to buy plastic-heavy products. We give clear indication on back of pack that the product can be recycled along with the rest of your paper waste and then collected.

Thus, when you send out the invitations there's no need to curb your creative spark. You can host your guests with a clear conscious, knowing that you are not sending products to landfill at the end of the night.

I wish you all well.
